Reason for Use Question

In your opinion, may you please state one or two reasons why someone would need a "paper summarizer"?

Real Peoples Response's

- | It helps them understand the material in a basic way, and helps them learn new material conceptually. - Sean
- | It makes the process of writing a paper much simpler just in case someone is dyslexic or if they have another neurological disability. - Sean
- One reason is because it can help with the flow and your grammar, but also chatgpt exists for that reason, but if you can make it different to the chatgpts features, you wouldn't have a knock off chatgpt. - Sid
- | It could save time, so you can spend your time elsewhere. - Krish
- | It could help people to increase their free time and analyze better some big contest for school or work - Evangelina
- | It would be so helpful for people who have some deficits of attention or something like that, it can be also helpful for people who cannot understand at the first time. Camila
